Listing of Claims:

1. (Currently Amended) A business, personal or marketing communication piece, comprising;

a substrate having first and second faces, first and second longitudinally extending side edges and first and second transversely extending end edges, at least one of said first and second faces is capable of receiving a ferromagnetic material provided from a slurry and non-ferromagnetic indicia; and wherein said ferromagnetic material is applied to said substrate in a variable pattern to create a personalized magnetic communication on said substrate through use of printing or imaging rollers to create a communication piece having a variably printed magnetic portion that is printed or imaged directly on to said substrate as well as a non-magnetic portion, each of which convey unique information, and said magnetic portion having a thickness of less than 25 mils.

2. (Currently Amended) A business or marketing communication piece as recited in claim 1, wherein said variable pattern of said magnetic portion and said non-magnetic portion cooperate to form a single business or marketing communication.

3. (Previously Presented) A business or marketing communication as recited in claim 1, wherein said ferromagnetic material is supplied from a reservoir to create said personalized magnetic communication.

4. (Previously Presented) A business or marketing communication as recited in claim 1, wherein said ferromagnetic material slurry is UV curable and is composed of a ferrite powder ranging from about 50 to about 90 % by weight of the slurry, a stabilizer ranging from about 5 to about 20% by weight of the slurry and a varnish ranging from about 15 to about 30% by weight of the slurry.

5. (Original) A business or marketing communication as recited in claim 1, wherein said thickness of said magnetic portion ranges from about 1 to about 15 mils.
